

DAY TREATMENT/DAY HABILITATION

These programs provide a range of services. Some programs provide services that are mainly diagnostic, treatment, and rehabilitative, where most of the day is spent in activities at the program site, to address the needs of severely disabled individuals. Other programs provide services that are mainly supervised experiences in community settings, designed to meet individual choices and needs. Community experiences may include purchasing goods, doing volunteer work in a variety of community settings, communicating with people who live or work in the neighborhood, etc. Still other programs provide a mixture of on-site and community activities.

Be aware that the terms “day treatment” and “day habilitation” refer to how the programs are funded. These terms are not necessarily indicative of which type of program is provided. To find out if a program is appropriate for a particular individual, first check the amount of time spent in the community. For instance, some individuals may prefer to spend most of their time in community-based activities, while others may prefer to spend more time in on-site activities. If desired, call the contact person to get additional information and to arrange a tour.
