

The Manhattan Family Support Services Advisory Council

For family members of people with developmental disabilities and self-advocates with developmental disabilities!

Join with other family members and individuals from all neighborhoods in Manhattan to build a better life for people with developmental disabilities and their families. Developmental disabilities include intellectual disabilities, autism, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, and neurological impairments.

Come and Be Empowered:

- Learn about the many services that can help your family
- Help us advise the state and city about needed services
- Meet other family members and people with disabilities
- Advocate with us for more and better services

Spanish or Cantonese interpretation provided if requested by October 22, 2014. Contact Margaret at 212-799-2042 or margaret.puddington@gmail.com to request interpretation.

Sexuality Issues

Much as we'd like, we can't ignore it: social-sexual relationships do develop between people with developmental disabilities. Come and learn from Bobra Fyne, assistant coordinator of sex education at YAI, how to educate people with developmental disabilities about social-sexual relationships. This is an opportunity none of us can afford to miss!
