THE CENTER FOR DISCOVERY

ASSESSMENT, SUPPORT, EDUCATION AND TRAINING (ASSET) Program

The Center for Discovery is pleased to announce its ASSET program, providing Assessment, Support, Education and Training to children ages 5-18, at both our Harris and NYC locations.

Who will ASSET serve?	ASSET will serve children with developmental disabilities, primarily Autism, who live at home. The ASSET team includes clinicians, behaviorists, educators and physicians who've devoted their careers to helping families like yours.
What is the cost of ASSET services	ASSET services are cost-free, funded by a grant from the NYS Office for People with Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD). Program participants must be enrolled in Medicaid, with some exceptions. Medical evaluations, if recommended, will be billed through Medicaid or the participant's private insurance.
What does ASSET do?	A multi-disciplinary, multi-environment assessment and evaluation followed by in-home and in-school training and education for family members and school personnel, addressing challenging behaviors, environmental design, emotional and energy regulation all aimed at increasing the effectiveness and consistency of supports and services, enabling your child to learn and grow.
How are ASSET services delivered?	Services will be person-centered, based on initial evaluations and strengths determined during ASSET participation. A Functional Behavioral Assessment (FBA) will be conducted, followed by implementation of behavioral and other strategies that may include environmental organization, structuring of activities, developing emotional self-regulation through vigorous exercise and other strategies, sleep and eating strategies. In some cases, we'll deploy technology in students' homes and schools, to capture bio-behavioral data through video and smart phone annotation, with the goal of determining which factors in your child's environment contribute to the problematic behavior, and which interventions are the most effective.
When will ASSET services begin?	In-Home and In-School services will begin within two weeks of evaluations and may continue, under the OPWDD grant, for up to ten weeks, depending on the needs of the student. Similar services may be continued after the grant period through agreement with your School District or through the HCBS Medicaid Waiver, if your child is eligible. We'll provide you with information and resources regarding the HCBS Medicaid Waiver, during ASSET participation.
Where do I get more information on ASSET?	Call for more information Rachael Skinner, Coordinator of Admissions 845-707-8695
